China Unicom was officially established on January 2009, on the basis of the merger of China Netcom and China Unicom. It is the only Chinese telecoms operator listed on the stock exchanges in New York, Hong Kong and Shanghai. With a modern communications network characterized by nationwide coverage and global reach, China Unicom mainly operates fixed and mobile communications service, domestic and international communications facilities, satellite IPLC service, data communications service, network access service, value-added telecoms services and a system integration service related to information and communications services. On 7 January 2009, China Unicom was granted a WCDMA license.
