

Ms. Nantawan Wongkachonkitti

Head, Innovation Department,
Electronic Government Agency

Nantawan Wongkachonkitti is Electronic Government Agency's Head of Innovation Department. EGA takes the roles to develop and integrate information and communication technology systems to achieve establishing e-Government which is the country's key strategy to effectively leverage government's capabilities of management and public service systems. EGA proposes and employs government policies to lay out strategic plans, master plans and action plans to promote, support and utilize ICT in all sectors to thoroughly and effectively push forward the country's development in all aspects.

Prior, she was the Director of IT Operations Division at EGA as well. She has been working in the computer and telecommunication field for over 16 years. She spearhead the Government Cloud Project for EGA. She is currently served as a secretary of CSA, Thailand Chapter which developed Cloud Control Matrix 1.3 on App Store for dual languages (Thai and English) called "Cloud Control Self Assessment". She is currently managing Research and Development team to develop Hybrid Government Cloud, Open Source Government Cloud, Open Government Data, Government Internet of Things, and Government Big Data Platform as a Service Projects.